

Riverbend City: Task Force Decision Making

My Questions

Question:

Do you have enough information to make a recommendation on the Eva Wesley case? If so, what should be done? If not, what additional information do you need before you can make a recommendation?

Answer:

I think that Eva can return home with services in place.

Question:

What knowledge gaps do you see in this task force that may impact their ability to help teens like Eva Wesley? How would you recommend they fill these knowledge gaps?

Answer:

I think by allowing the care coordinator work with family to see what barriers they can be assisted with in the home.

Question:

Would you recommend an additional task force member (or members) to help address issues like this one? If so, what criteria might you use for selecting these prospective task force members?

Answer:

I do agree that additional task force members need to assist with addressing this issue.

Question:

If the task force were to conduct a literature review, what information should they research?

Answer:

Communtiy support groups, counseling for family and children. Teen support for trasgender and prevention services to asisit family
